

Spring tire is nervous exhaustion; mind and body cannot rest at night. The constant strain of work and severe climatic changes in the spring weaken and inflame the nerves.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND Strengthens the Nerves

H. D. SCHUYLER, 73 State St., Albany, N.Y., writes: "Every spring I have a drowsy, logy feeling, loss of appetite and poor sleep, and am very nervous. Last March I began taking Paine's Celery Compound, and I never felt so well in my life as since using it. I gained ten pounds in flesh and it strengthened my nerves. I can recommend Paine's Celery Compound to everybody in the spring months, especially those whose nerves and brain are under constant strain."

PAINE'S Celery Compound is the spring medicine of American people.

AGAINST USING DISAPPEARING GUN

Experience of the Navy During Recent War-System Tried and Abandoned Abroad.

Maj. Gen. Miles has written another letter to the Secretary of War in support of his protest against the policy of using disappearing gun coast carriages in the coast defense system, in which he says:

"The conclusion to mount upward of 90 per cent of our modern high-power coast defense guns in deep pits on disappearing carriages was apparently reached after a long academic discussion of the subject in successive annual reports of the chief of engineers. The conclusion is not believed to be based upon any practical results of fire from shipboard on land fortifications obtained in war service. The history of all recent naval operations is distinctly opposed recent naval operations is distinctly opposed to such a conclusion, and no better example of this could be desired than that furnished during the recent war with Spain, when the fire from the vessels of our Atlantic squadrons was directed for more than a month against weak, antiquated and exposed artillery defenses of Santiago, with the net results that two guns were dismounted and probably not more than $10,000 total damage was done to the fortifications.

Experience in Recent War. "Old Morro Castle, the eighteenth cenury masonry work, exposed on a bluff less $2,500. than 200 feet above tidewater, and armed with four eighteenth century smooth-bore cannon, withstood on one occasion the conentrated fire of our fleet at close range for three hours, with the result that one corner of the masonry was struck and damaged, but the parapet remained intact, and not a man or a gun was injured so far as known.

A similar experience was met with two months earlier during the bombardment of San Juan.

San Juan.

"There were no disappearing mounts on any of the Spanish guns, and but little protection for guns or gunners, yet they successfully withstood the fire from the very latest types of naval weapons, including rapid-fire and machine guns of the latest pattern.

pattern. "If we go back to the siege of Port Arthur, to the English bombardment of Alexardria or, earlier still, to the siege of Sebastopol, the story is the same. These are facts in warfare versus theory in peace. As originally submitted to Congress in ISSS the Endicott board report and systems of ceast defense outlined therein were as perfect and as comprehensive as the highest technical knowledge of the day could produce.

"It is true that the great powers of Europe during the period from 1872 to 1876 were favorably disposed toward the disappearing system of mounting guns and that many guns of this type had become a part of the coast defense, from time to time since the beginning of the century down to and during this period, chiefly for trial and experiment. In the closing paragraph, to which exception has been taken, I referred only to the modern coast defense system of Europe as affording a striking contrast. The statement therein I believe to be literally true and based upon information secured from the highest ordnance authorities.

Tried and Abandoned Abroad.

"I deem it most unfortunate that we should take up, develop and place almost sole dependence upon a type of mount that has been tried and practically abandoned abroad. In the fourteen years that have elapsed since 1886 methods and means of defense throughout the world have changed rapidly, and we should keep step, if not ad-vance, of progress made abroad. Rapid-fire guns on recoil-controlling carriages are being used almost exclusively on all guns up to and including six-inch caliber, while the proportion of guns above six-inch call-ber is decreasing.

"Protection to gun and gunner can, as a rule, only be secured at the expense of rapidity and accuracy of fire, and the best protection that can be given to both gun and gunner is to make its fire as accurate, rapid and destructive as possible. This was the secret of the success of our navy in sinking the Spanish fleet with guns all in barbette, and not one in disappearing carriage. Our present barbette carriage was adopted and announced as a type by the board of ordnance and fortification more than five years ago.

the board of ordnance and fortification more than five years ago.

"The method of securing ammunition can be much improved, and if one quarter of the time, money and ingenuity air-ady devoted to development of the disappearing carriage had been given to the barbette mount the advantage to the government would, in my opinion, have been great.
"My objection to relying almost entirely upon the disappearing carriage was the result of personal inspection of a large proportion of those mounted, and is confirmed by the concensus of opinion of many artillery officers."

Did Not Live at Murphy's.

In a recent issue of The Star there was a paragraph telling of the arrest, on the charge of vagrancy, of John Campbell, and in the testimony before the Police Court the statement was made that the prisoner lived in Murphy's lodging house and that the witness had never seen him sober. Mr. J. A. Murphy of 132 1st street, the proprietor of the lodging house, in a letter to The Star takes very decided issue with this testimony. He says: "The said individual John Campbell, was not at the time of his arrest nor had he been for years an inmate of my house, and I will add that under no circumstances would I entertain him even for a night. We have much to contend with in our business and succeed in acquiring a livelihood, independent of police officers' testimony. I value greatness, but not having been born great nor having achieved greatness I most emphatically protest against greatness of this sort being forced upon me."

Debs as Writer and Orator. Eugene V. Debs, who will deliver his lecture on "Labor and Liberty," at the New Grand tomorrow evening, is referred o in a western newspaper as "a writer most courteous and versatile. As a speaker he is cogent and persuasive, a man who compels attention from those who think, whether they coincide with his views or

It is true there are many pile remedies having a ational popularity is considered. .

The explanation is simple. It is because piles is in to sense an imaginary trouble that a bread pill or a simple salve or olutiment will cure, but an obstitate, painful and often dangerous trouble, and a remedy, to give satisfaction, must possess positive and very apparent merit. A person suffering from piles will not experiment for months with a remedy; it must give relief and a cure in short order, or it is condemned.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Draft of Bill Submitted to Chairmen

The District Commissioners today transmitted to the chairmen of the Senate and House District committees the draft of a bill to regulate the collection of taxes in the District, with the recommendation that the measure be enacted into law. The proposed law provides that hereafter, begin-ning with the fiscal year commencing July 1. 1900, the whole tax on real and personal property in the District shall be due and payable in the month of May of each year; and if said tax upon real and personal property shall not be paid before the 1st day of June in each year the same thereupon shall be in arrears and delinquent, and there shall then be added, to be collected with sald tax, a penalty of 1 per centum upon the amount thereof and a like penalty on the first day of each succeeding month un-the first day of each succeeding month un-til payment of said tax and penalty; and the who'e together shall constitute the de-linquent tax, to be dealt with and collected in the manner now provided by law. The proposed law further provides that the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and directed to advance to the disbursing officer of the District of Colum-bia, as now prescribed by law, out of any money in the treasury of the United States money in the treasury of the United States money in the treasury of the United States not otherwise appropriated, such sums as may be necessary from time to time to meet the general expenses of said District, and to reimburse the treasury for the one-half advances payable by said District out of the taxes and revenues collected as herein provided for.

LEADING FILIPINOS SURRENDERING. The War Department has received the following report from Gen. Otis: "MANILA, May 4, 1900. "The April captures from the enemy were thirty pieces of artillery, 1,200 rifles, considerable ammunition and large stores property. During the early portion of the northern and southern Luzon and some Viscayan islands. Our reported losses for the month were 13 enlisted men killed, three month were 13 enlisted men killed, three officers, 24 enlisted men wounded. The rumored recent loss in Samar of 19 killed and number wounded has not yet been reported. This is due to small detachments scouting in mountains in the interior of the island. The enemy's losses officially reported were 1,721 killed, wounded and captured. Leading Filipinos express confidence in the early pacification of the islands. They say the war has terminated. Leading insurgents pacification of the Islands. They say war has terminated. Leading insurgents OTIS."

war has terminated. Leading insurgents are surrendering. OTIS."
War Department advices from Gen. Otis confirm the Associated Press dispatches of the discovery in the insurgent archives of papers implicating foreign firms at Manila in unlawful dealings. Beyond admitting this the officials decline to make any statement, except that Gen. Otis' dispatches do not contain the names of the firms alleged to have furnished munitions of war to the rebels. Such action in the matter as is necessary will be left to Gen. MacArthur, who succeeds Gén. Otis in command.

CHURCH ANNIVERSARY. Semi-Centennial Observance of Grace

A number of prominent clergymen of Washington will participate in the exercises of the semi-centennial celebration at Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, beginning tomorrow and continuing Monday and Tuesday evenings. The services will commence with the celebration of the holy communion at 7:30 o'clock a.m. tomorrow At 11 o'clock there will be a processional by the Sunday school, and a historical sermon by the rector.

Grace Church was started over fffty years ago in a ladles' seminary at the southwest corner of 12th street and Maryland avenue kept by the Misses Rooker. For several years the abandoned cocoonery of Mr. O. H. Morrison, at 10th and C streets, and an old fire engine house, served as places of worship.

South Washington was then known as the "Island," and, though the oldest section of the capital, was somewhat isolated from the new part of the city. The Rev. Dr. French, rector of Epiphany, organized a congregation, with the Sunday school as a nucleus, and was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Steele of St. Mark's-now pro-cathedral. Steele of St. Mark's—now pro-cathedral.

Dr. Holmead, a well-to-do practicing physician in South Washington, aided by his estimable wife, having taken orders in the church, became rector about the year '48, and under his ministry the present location was purchased, and a neat Gothle frame church was built. Some of the workers in the church then were Messrs, F. W. Ritter, Col. C. H. Alexander, Mr. Riley, Terrence Riley, Wm. Burroughs, N. C. Kidwell, Henry R. Riley, V. Willet, O. H. Morrison and Chas. Tucker. Among the Sunday school teachers were the Misses Riley, the Misses Randolph, Miss Hatch, Miss Maggie Williams, Miss Lottie Martin and Mr. Gordon.

During the sixil was the church building day school teachers were the Misses Riley, the Misses Randolph, Miss Hatch, Miss Maggie Williams, Miss Lottle Martin and Mr. Gordon.

During the civil war the church building was used by the government as a hospital. The congregation consequently became scattered. Dr. Holmead resigned in 1880, and the church building, having been condemned, was for some time closed.

Services were resumed under the ministrations of the Rev. Francis Gilliott, now at Ellicotsville, N. Y. He was followed by Rev. Mr. Lee, who served but a short time, and then, it is said, abandoned the pulpit for the stage. Rev. John W. Phillips served the parish faithfully until his death, Easter Sunday, 1891.

For several months it looked as if Grace Church would become extinct. A movement was on foot to sell the property and abandon the field, but Rev. T. O. Tongue consented to undertake the work there at a very small stipend. Under his ministry a heavy debt was canceled. A mortgage was placed on the property and money thus secured to erect the present building. Failing health, hdwever, led Mr. Tongue to resign. The services were kept up, however, by the Rev. Field Saumenig and Archdeacon Childs, until the Rev. Chas. F. Sontag, rector of Trinity Church, Upper Marlboro', Md. was elected rector, and began his duties January 1, 1888, since whish time the work has progressed with encouraging results. Sunday school and congregation have more than doubled, and several hundred dollars of the debt paid off.

The church property, inclosed by a substantial iron fence, and several memorials, including credence table and pulpit for the Church, and a plano and new altar for the Sunday school room, were purchased. Although a very heavy debt still rests on the parish, the prospects are said to be bright, and the people united and happy.

Spilled the Molten Iron. A car containing twelve tons of molten iron jumped a track in the plant of the Illinois steel works, in South Chicago, last night, and several workmen who were in a pit under the car were injured. Two of the men will die from their injuries and two others were so seriously injured that it will be many weeks before they recover.

Musical and Literary Features. The French Club was received last Wed esday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Windom at their residence, on F street. This was the last regular meeting for the season, as Wednesday next the club's annual complimentary dramatic solree will be given at National Rifles' Hall. For this occasion the play selected is "Plantation Thomassin," by Maurice Ordonneau, the Thomassin," by Maurice Ordonneau, the original from which Gilfette drew his well-known adaptation, "Too Much Johnson."

After a preliminary business meeting Wednesday evening the program was taken up, consisting of musical and literary features. The musical numbers were the first movement from Max Bruch's concerto for violin, played by Mr. William E. Green, and a group of French. German and English songs sung by Mrs. Eisle Bond Bischoff, whose interpretation was most enthusiastically applauded. The literary program consisted of a humorous selection, "Le gros lot," read by Mrs. Emma Sheridan; a dramatic recitation, "Les pauvres gens," by Victor Hugo, given by Miss Eugenle Liebschutz, and a most amusing sketch, "Divorcons nous?" by Grenet-Dancour, interpreted by Messrs, Harry S.
